Interview with Craig Bircher:

Craig has always been interested in creating with wood, and is a long-time do-it-yourself person who has tackled many projects large and small. He is a native of Kansas, but got his masters in music from the University of Michigan. After graduation, he took a position with the Omaha Symphony, where he met his future wife (also a musician). They soon bought a fixer upper and began to develop skills. Forty years later, they retired and moved back to Mary's childhood home in Richmond. This is their fourth house project, which they now share with Mary's mother. Their neighbor, John Daniels, invited Craig to join the Richmond Woodturners.

On one of their houses, they decided to duplicate the staircase railing for the exterior porch railings, so he learned some spindle techniques and made several hundred pieces. While in Omaha, he volunteered on a BBQ team that fed the players for the College World Series and happened to be set up next to a trailer with a representative from a wooden bat company. Craig watched him make bats for a day and thought that would be fun. He has blanks from Louisville Slugger, but has not turned any yet.

Craig also loves to cook, so his first and current turning project is a French rolling pin. He has used a skew to minimize sanding. He plans to make more rolling pins for gifts, some with inlays.

Craig's lathe is a Rockwell, made sometime in the 1970s. It was given to him by a friend. Craig has a grinder, but still needs to acquire a chuck. Someday he will get a chainsaw and a bandsaw.

He is amazed at the skill and creativity of the club members and hopes to soon begin turning bowls. He also says he appreciates how well run the club is and is pleased with the variety of demonstrations.

President's Corner

April was another very enjoyable meeting! Good turnout and a few new faces. Chuck Horton started it off with an open discussion during Turner's Talk; good thing he had a list of topics because the rest of us were a little quiet to start, but things picked up and there were a number of excellent discussions. Then onto the business meeting where we had some really nice Show and Tell pieces and a tough decision on what to highlight in the agenda slides. Cody Walker did a demo on bowls with handles; not exactly what I was expecting but even better! I really enjoyed the creativity he showed in bowl design and ways to add handles. I hope everyone else enjoyed it as much as I did.

That was not the only activity last month. John Daniel organized our participation in Farm Field Day in Glen Allen. While he did not do a great job with the weather (at least we had enough tents), all of us that participated had a great time. Although the low turnout meant not too much selling took place, we still had good discussions with those that stopped by and had time to talk and learn from each other. It was what I'd like our open lathe nights to be where we can try different tools and techniques. As more of these opportunities come up I hope more members will take advantage and come out for a good time! Enough said. I need to get back in the shop (skew practice badly needed!) and I still need to turn a good Show and Tell item.

Steve

Please bring and wear your badge to the meeting!

If you didn't sign up and want one, please contact Larry Yancey, lp'yancey@gmail.com. The first one is free to members. There is a fee of $10.00 to replace a lost one

April Meeting Highlights

Thank you Chuck Bajnai for the photo

Cody Walker did a demonstration on turning bowls with handles. This demonstration was in preparation for the second quarterly challenge.

Link for his demo

He reported that he was approached by one member after my demo, who requested photos of the mounting sequence for oval bowls. He said “unfortunately, I forgot to take a photo of the mounted bowl after it was flipped over to turn the top of the bowl. I think you can still see what’s going on with the photo after the top of the

Report on Farm Field Day at Meadow Farm Museum at Crump Park

Though it was a damp day, the spirits at the Richmond Woodturners booth was very bright. There were three tents tightly grouped together. The attendance was very light, but as you can see from the picture, we did have some enthusiastic spectators. There were 10 of our members there to represent the club including: David Bushman, Dan Luttrell, Jay and Denise Pugh, Steve Kellner, Phillip Duffy, Larry Yancey, Jim Kennedy, David Goldsmith and John Daniel that planned and coordinated the event. Thank you John for the event and the banner in the background.

Richmond Woodturners cap

Dan Luttrell plans to order club hats soon after the May monthly meeting where he will be taking orders. Navy blue hat with yellow "Richmond Woodturners" embroidered on "flat" front panel. It is a very comfortable hat. See attached photos; (1) new hat and (2) old hat from years ago. For a minimum of 24 orders, the caps will cost $13.00. If there are pennies left over, he will donate that to the club. If you want one please contact Dan at www.mostthingsround@gmail.com or 804-382-2145.

Just a follow up to Dan's iPhone / ear buds tip from last month.

I don't have an iPhone or ear buds but I was able to plug the receiver from a wireless mouse into my Android phone, use the mouse to position the cursor over the shutter button, pick up the mouse (so the cursor wouldn't move), and use the left mouse button to take the photo.
Thanks, Mike Squire

Klingspor and Penn State discount programs

Both Klingspor and Penn State Industries offer a 10% discount to members of woodturning clubs. If you wish to participate, both companies require the club to submit your name, email address, phone number, and mailing address of members that want to sign up. You must then establish an on line account with a user name and password. Thereafter, you will receive an automatic 10% discount on all on line purchases.

Chuck Horton (our Secretary) is the contact point for RWT members who wish to participate. If you want to sign up for either or both discounts, send Chuck an email noting P, K or both and he will forward your information to the appropriate company. (Hortoncharles876@gmail.com)

If you DO NOT wish to participate, no action is necessary and your data will NOT be submitted.
