FEATURE

Last month, Jerry Fisher submitted a Show and Tell submission that I thought would be an excellent Feature for this month. Jerry gave permission to do that. Thank you Jerry for this interesting article.

A friend who is renovating a 50-year-old barn asked me if I could turn 2 cones to match the original ones mounted on the cupola of the building shown in this picture on the ground.

He wanted these to be mounted on each end of the building. My reaction initially was certainly I can do that. But the basic challenge was their dimensions. They had to be 36 inches long and have a 3-inch base and a 1-inch top. I planned to use Popular so he could paint them. After searching unsuccessfully for 4X4 Poplar squares, I decided to join smaller pieces to make the required squares.

I tried to turn these 36-inch pieces using the bed extension on my Nova lathe. People turn baseball bats all the time, I quickly decided it was too risky due to vibration. I had to come up with a better plan. So, I cut the 4X4's into 2 pieces, one for the top and another for the lower section of the cone.

After turning each, I joined the top and bottom back together to make the finished length. The next step was to mount each finished cone back on the lathe to blend the top and bottom better at the glue joint.

RICHMOND WOODTURNERS

Newsletter July 2023

My steady rest is not large enough for the Nova lathe and I had to raise it up by using a piece of plywood as a riser block. It still couldn't support the thinner end. At that point, I could sand the cones using this configuration but not turn them. So, in conclusion, the first one is not done as well as I would like. The second one came out looking much better.

From 30 feet away, on the roof of a barn, you can't see any difference. The person who made the original one certainly knew what he was doing.

President's Corner

.Great June meeting! Dan gave an outstanding treatise on how to mount bowl blanks and remount as needed to finish turning. Unfortunately, I missed a large part of the presentation while we (mostly Keith) set up for the business meeting. But the early turnout was outstanding, so a large fraction of the club got to learn from one of our experts! Going forward, we'll see if we can record these sessions.

The program was excellent as well. Dave led an excellent discussion on our favorite finishes. Many members talked about their favorite finish and there was good discussion among the group. I definitely learned a lot; I hope you did as well!

Show and Tell and 2nd quarter challenge entries were a little light. We'll try to do a better job of choosing Challenge ideas in the future but please share what you've made for S&T. I love getting new ideas when I see what others are making!

Thanks for listening.....and keep turning!

Quarterly Challenges

3rd quarter- turn something with feet
4th quarter- turn a Christmas ornament

New name badges are in

New name badges will be distributed at the July meeting to those members that ordered one. If you didn't sign up and want one, please contact Chuck Horton (hortoncharles876@gmail.com). They are free to members. This is a sample of what they look like.

Turner's Talk

Mentoring & Skills Development Workshop

The workshop meets prior to our regular Thursday meeting at 5:30 PM at Woodcraft and have a time to talk turning. Come on in and let's talk shop. This month Scott Synott will demo thoughts/techniques in making beads and highlighting them with wire burning.

Woodcraft Guidelines for our Meetings

Woodcraft graciously provides a space for the club to meet. The store closes at 7:00 PM and they have an employee stay until our meeting ends. They have requested that we:

- 1- Do not wander around the store after they close. Do all your purchases prior to the 7:00 PM closing time.
- 2- Stay in the meeting area until the meeting is over and we are ready to leave. If you do have to leave prior to the end of the meeting, please arrange that with the Woodcraft representative ahead of time.
- 3- That we all leave at the same time, taking all visiting outside the store, so the representative can lock up and leave.

Future Demonstrations

August – David Bushman will discuss and demonstrate how he chooses the style of foot he puts on a vessel or bowl and show how he turns the bottom of a piece to prepare it for carving.

September – More shop tours may be in the offing. I hear they may be Ray Deyo's and Stan VanDruff's shops.

October – Demonstration of spindle gouge. More details to follow

June Program Review

The June program was headed up by David Bushman and the topic was finishes and finishing. David had several pieces that he brought in and discussed the finish on each of them. The floor was opened to members to discuss their favorite finish; many had pieces to show the finish they used. As you may imagine, there was no one "THIS IS IT" finish, but some of us were introduced to a finish that we had not tried.

The title for this work is Southern Magnolia bowl. 9 inches in diameter and 6 inches tall. The wood is southern magnolia and the leaves were carved from magnolia leaf templates. The finish is oil based urethane and artist acrylic paint. It took many hours to create and is by far my best work to date.

A foray into segmented plus resin. Still have some problems to solve but happy with a first effort.

Large cherry bowl is from a huge cherry tree I had cut down on my fence line. It is a crotch piece and made for interesting turning, No matter what I did, it would not balance. Apparently that piece of wood had pockets of varying densities

Three rustic bowls. spalted maple. Smaller bowls are cored from center of largest:
Primary bowl, 12"x7";
Second 9.5"x 4.5";
Third 7"x3". Finish is lacquer followed by Beall buffing and carnauba wax. I added a base to the second bowl because the cored blank was too thin to turn a base. I was not too successful in turning the bowls cleanly so made extensive use of 36 thru 240 grit 'turning tools'!

This is a small ash burl. It had three limbs departing in different angles. It stayed together when I turned it to my surprise. It is finished in Tried and True Danish Oil.

I turned this bowl this afternoon from the core no one wanted last night. Bowl, 7.5"x 2" x 1/8" wall, wood is the core no one wanted at the wood auction. It has some spalting and nice grain pattern.

Finish: shellac/walnut oil friction polish and carnauba wax. I went through the bottom while shaping the foot and had to add an extra piece to complete/repair it. Only had an 1/8" hole in center of bowl which a nub in the center of the added foot filled nicely.

State Fair

STATE FAIR TIME IS COMING SOON

The Virginia State Fair is coming September 22 through October 1.

The club is encouraging members to participate in two ways:

1- enter a piece in one or more of the following categories

- Class 6101 Bowls
- Class 6012 Platters
- Class 6103 Vases
- Class 6104 Boxes and Containers
- Class 6105 Hollow Forms
- Class 6106 Turnings incorporating surface treatments or decorations
- Class 6107 Woodturning, other (please describe)

Awards:

1st, 2nd, 3rd each class $10.00 & Ribbon

Best of Section $20.00 & ribbon

This year there will be able to enter in one of three categories: Novice, Intermediate, or Advanced

Dan Luttrell has provided the following information

Virginia State Fair Adult Competitions

Richmond Woodturners is promoting more competition at the State Fair this year. You are encouraged to enter. Here is the main Website: statefairva.org

"Our" Division is 61, Turnings (but you may want to enter other Divisions as well). This link may not have been updated yet to show the Division breakdown. It will be modified to match Division 58,

July 2023

This year, Division 61 has been broken down into three groups, 61A Novice, 61B Intermediate, and 61C Advanced, in order to stimulate participation and provide for more winners. Also, this year, the top winners are awarded $10, up from $5, last year. Of course, the entry fee has increased from $1 to $3. You can register online.

Please read the rules online.

Please see this link for Entry Deadlines, Delivery Deadlines, and Pick-up Dates. This link also has the mail-in registration form if you need that.

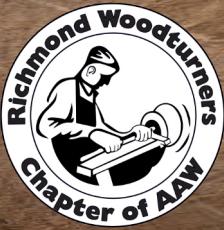

The club is also planning to deliver entries en masse, for those who may live too far from the fairgrounds. For this to happen, registration will have to be complete, and entries will need to be properly packaged, well identified (copy of entry form please), and delivered to the August woodturners meeting. Arrangements for pickup are also planned.

Get your best work together and give it a go. The public wants to see what you are capable of.

State Fair Demonstration

Participate in demonstrating during a 4 hour shift during the fair. Great fun, just ask someone who has done it.

Dan Luttrell will have more details coming soon, but be thinking about being involved.

Questions/Answers

QUESTION- What is the best wood to turn?

ANSWER- That question is like asking what is the best flavor of ice cream. I suggest a really good resource is a video from our club meeting via Zoom in November 2020. Six club members gave a presentation of their favorite wood and why. Many gave really comprehensive information for woods that are good for turning and some of those that are not. The six videos are available at the club website www.richmondwoodturners.org. Click the Resources tab on the home page and then scroll down about 1/3 down the page to get to "Wood Discussion Panel" or you can go to bit.ly/fav_wood. The six presenters are listed and can be accessed by clicking the link with their names.

Excellent Resource!
