THE MISSION OF RICHMOND

WOODTURNERS IS TO PROVIDE EDUCATION AND
INFORMATION TO THOSE WHO ARE INTERESTED IN WOODTURNING AND TO PROMOTE WOODTURNING
AS AN ART FORM WITHIN
THE CLUB AND TO THE
GENERAL PUBLIC

FEATURE

Eric Lofstrom

Creating a lidded box requires series of carefully calculated steps to produce a successful piece. While many turners find the planning tedious, working through the 5 F's below will help with the planning and increase your overall success. Consider the elements of Foundation, Function, Form, Fell and Finish to fine-tune your fitted box making process. Spending time working on creating technical turnings like the box will elevate your craft and develop a depth of intention which effects all your creative work! Come join us on October 16 for an IRD demonstration as Eric guides us through the process of making his boxes.

President's Corner

Steve Kellner

September's meeting was even better than I expected. It started with Pam Bozkurt giving us a reminder on turning wig stands; along with a push for club members to honor our commitment to Massey cancer center by turning a nice wig stand and bringing it to the October meeting. I've turned one; hope you have too!

The 3rd quarter challenge, Keep the bark, was next up with a higher participation than usual which was nice to see. And we even had a decent collection of Show & Tell entries! Let's keep it up!

But, the highlight was Jay Pugh's sharpening demo! I was part of the demonstrating team as well, but this was Jay's show and he did not disappoint! Most of us use jigs but Jay showed us how hand sharpening (with a little bit of practice!) is faster, and in many cases better, than using a jig. For those of us without the muscle memory for hand sharpening, he demonstrated easy ways of grinding the profile and then completing the process with a jig. Thank you, Jay, for an exceptional demonstration!

Now who's going to step up next year!

Please bring and wear your badge to the meeting!

If you want one, please contact Larry Yancey, lpyancey@gmail.com. The first one is free to members. There is a fee of $10.00 to replace a lost one.

The woods for the piece pictured in the center spalted soft maple, spalted strange maple (can't figure out what it actually is), catalpa, ash, and hard maple and is around 15" in diameter . The piece pictured on the right is spalted white oak, neon orange plexiglass, and white for the finial. The big one and the oak one is about 7 in diameter. Both of the lids can function as a spinning top.

The third is a wireless lamp with a spalted red maple base, maple bent laminated dyed black with sumi ink, and a soft maple hollow form for the lampshade. It's roughly 24" tall.

State Fair

Fair reflections from a member

Each year many of us pack up our tools, prepare some wood blanks to be turned and travel to the VA State Fair to demonstrate wood turning to the general public. The Fair on the second day was lower in attendance. this of course translated to lower attendance at the booth. That said, Dan Currier, Larry Yancey and I had a ton of fun and had several great conversations with people who did not know about woodturning and they enjoyed very much watch us turn. Dan Currier turned tops....Larry turned owls....I turned spatulas. We made lots of chips. We had a great time together and enjoyed all we experienced. It was a great time. One exchange was particularly memorable. A group of young kids gathered for a bit of time in front of each lathe. “Curious minds want to know” is a true statement. The children were totally captivated watching Dan Currier turn tops. I had to get a photo. I am glad I remembered NOT to take their faces. When I asked the mothers if I could take their picture talking to Dan, there was great hesitation....but when I added, “I will not get their faces”, the mothers immediately said “Oh, then sure”. It is just the world we live in and something to be sensitive about if we can remember it. I will most remember the children when Dan made the top spin.

We were in a different location this year. I thought this was a better location and had the numbers been normal we would have had more traffic than normal. Our banner was very well placed at the back of our space. Handouts were in place and often picked up by those who passed by. Taking a break we strolled over to the items being judged. It looks as though we had really good results with the items to be judged. Several blue ribbons and Steve Kellner I think got Best in Show for his sand blasted lamp. Congratulations to all.

As always this is a really fun good experience. No injuries, no flying wood (at least on our shift). Yeah! If you were not able to participate this year, I urge you to step up early next year. Where else can you have this much fun turning wood, answering questions, and topping it all off with an elephant ear from the Fair vendors. I am grateful to all in the club who worked to organize and make this happen.

John Daniel
