January 2011

The Christmas Party was a great success even though the weather did not cooperate. The party was held after Christmas but no one minded we just had a pre-New Years Party. We had plenty of good food, old friends & family and good things for the Silent Auction. Someone walked off with great bargains of Ellsworth vessels.

A few auction goodies

BEADS OF COURAGE FOR SICK CHILDREN

There was a wonderful segment about beads of courage (<http://www.beadsofcourage.org/pages/woodworkers.htm>) this morning on Sunday Morning CBS. I talked with a friend who teaches bead work and is nationally known. He told me about the turner's participation (making lidded bowls to hold the beads) in this program.

Something to think about when making small projects. Do you think the club would be interested in knowing about this??? Barbara Dill

Note: No Virginia hospital participates in this program as yet, but there are hospitals in WV & NC

Board MeetingMeeting Vibrations

Danny will send out the updated membership list to the board members. He has made up a questionnaire for the membership. It will be handed out & collected at a later meeting

Treasury Report ~$8549. A written report (as per the chapter requirements) will follow next month. The new president, Dick now can write checks.

Silent Auction netted $400 and $400 in dues have been collected.

Finishing will be this month demo

AV committee has been working hard viewing other clubs setup. A 3 camera movable setup is used by others. We might want a projector for outside demonstrators. They are in a holding pattern until the questionnaires are collected. Someone will look into renting one. The JR Carvers have one and will let us use it. Ambient light will cause a problem unless we can block out the emergency lights in the room.

Refreshments might be assigned to different members each month. The club would buy the paper products in bulk.
